Train, Teach, Transform!

The Programme

This programme is led by Altrincham Grammar School for Girls (outstanding) and is aimed at undergraduate students of science, technology, engineering and maths, who are in their penultimate year of study and who are considering a career in teaching.

You will get the chance to observe and learn from outstanding classroom practitioners and run small intervention groups, workshops and projects to see if teaching really is the career for you.

Internships will take place over four weeks in Manchester during June/July 2017

- You will receive teaching experience and training from outstanding subject mentors
- You will be offered support with your teacher training application during your final year
- You will be guaranteed an interview should you apply for our teacher training programme
- You will be offered support when preparing for your professional skills tests
- You will be paid £300 per week

To apply please email admin@allianceforlearning.co.uk or phone 0161 912 5912

"A really good introduction to the world of teaching. We carried out observations, built up our experience and then delivered our own classes. I would definitely recommend this programme to other students."
